

Role play: Body language

Different body languages are used in different situation. There are two choices A and B for each situation. A pair of students demonstrate both and the rest of the class guess which one between A and B is a normal practice in China.

1. Meeting for the first time

A bowing to each other

B shaking hands

2. When shaking hand

A Both parties are expected to stand up

B The one who has already sat down can remain seated

3. It is a common practice to give/receive business card/present

A with one hand

B with both hands

4. After receiving the presents

A It is common to open them in front of the giver.

B It is common not to open them in front of the giver.